-Your child should be filling out a practice journal each week for a homework grade. These are due on Tuesdays, and are found in Schoology.

-If your child feels that they are falling behind or need some extra help with music reading, they are welcome to come see me during seminar class on Thursdays.

7th and 8th Grade Bands:

-Your child should be filling out a practice journal each week for a homework grade. These are due on Tuesdays, and are found in Schoology.

-Please make sure your child's instrument has some kind of name tag on it. We have had a few mix-ups this week, resulting in very worried students! Many cases are identical and difficult to tell apart.
